Meyers Cites Urgency Of Filling School Job

"It's exceedingly necessary that we fill the job".

That's Dr. Milton J. Meyers' assertion, relating to the vacant assistant superintendent's post.

Furthermore, Dr. Meyers believes that the School Committee and Supt. Edward I. Erickson agree with him.

However, the School Committee chairman feels that the Board should not be rushed into appointing someone - rather, sufficient time should be taken in interviews and discussion prior to that final action.

He suggested that Supt. Erickson may have some candidates to discuss with the full Committee when it next meets Sept. 6.

He could foresee no disagreement among Committee members over filling the post.

There have been undercurrents in the community to the effect that the Committee might have a deep disagreement over the importance of having an assistant superintendent, at least within the framework of the job description voted by the Committee late in the spring.

The Committee, in that step, spelled out the duties of the assistant and defined his responsibility and authority. Dr. Meyers said he can see no reason why this should be changed now. "And I think Ed (Supt. Erickson) feels the same way about it", he stated.

Dr. Meyers said that there are two applications from persons referred by the Boston University School of Education, and three or four from persons referred by Harvard. At least two additional applications are on hand from other individuals, he said, who have

Army Takes Over Town Today

The Army will take over Andover today, in a simulated war situation.

One platoon will spend the day here, as part of a three-day exercise in civil affairs administration. Several other communities are involved in the undertaking by a Reserve Army company on training duty at Fort Devens.

The platoon will arrive here by 9:30, and the conference room in the town hall will be set up as headquarters.

Initial interviews with key personnel will start at 9:30, for a half hour period.

A formal ceremony will be held at 10 a.m., at which the Army commander will read a proclamation and the basic laws. There will be a public designation of appointed officials to serve under civil affairs supervision.

Committee Heard Renewal Plans

The initial urban renewal survey by a two-man team from the consulting firm of Candeb and Fleissig will begin about Sept. 1, it was revealed Tuesday night at a public session.

The Housing Authority met with the original citizens' committee to explain how the plan is progressing, and answer questions that have come up since the larger committee met last.

It has been emphasized that until all surveys and plans are completed, there will be no decision on which buildings in the 22-acre site will be removed. No one has any authority to discuss property values with owners, until two independent appraisals have been made by persons qualified in this

Raytheon Employees Are Blood Donors

During the first of two in-plant blood drives conducted during 1960 by the Andover Chapter, American Red Cross, at Raytheon-Andover, Aug. 10-11, the importance of such drives was experienced first-hand when Miss Lorraine LeBlanc of Lawrence, a clerk in the Engineering Services Department, registered to donate. Miss LeBlanc is one out of every 200 people to have rare AB negative blood. As soon as she had donated, the blood was transferred to the BonSecours Hospital without delay where it was immediately put to use.

Added Service By Health Association

Frederick H. Tarr, president of the Essex County Health Association, announced today that the Association plans to offer a new service to its 30 communities. The Association will add a public health nurse to its staff as tuberculosis coordinator for the Association. She will work closely with the Essex County Sanatorium and the local health departments to insure adequate follow-up for the tuberculous.

A Program Committee, with Chairman Helen Harmand, M.D., senior physician at the county hospital and the following members: Mrs. John B. Daly, Beverly; Walter H. Evans, Haverhill; Mrs. James H. Hall, Rowley; Howard Jemison, M.D., Essex; Mrs. Catherine Murphy, Beverly; and Frederick H. Tarr, Rockport, established the new program activity as one step in the all-out attack against tuberculosis recommended by national leaders at the Arden House Conference.

In announcing the plans for improved service to the communities, Mr. Tarr stated that the Association, with Christmas Seal funds, will continue to provide chest X-rays and tuberculin testing programs, health education, and rehabilitation of former patients as it has been doing.

LaRosa Received
Zoning Variance

Raymond L. LaRosa has been given Appeals Board approval to construct a house on Heather dr. that will be closer to the rear lot line than required.

The Board stated that it would be a hardship on LaRosa if the request was denied.

The Board has also turned down another request, stating that the petitioner did not show sufficient hardship.

Thomas Pendergast of North Wilmington asked permission to build on a lot at 84 Bellevue rd. with the house closer than required to the front lot line. He said the land sloped sharply to the rear. However, the Board's opinion stated that fill could be used to bring the rear of the lot up to a better grade.

With the filing of the two decisions this week, a new statute went into effect.

All limited or conditional zoning variances and special permits must now be filed with the Registry of Deeds, and must give the nature of the decision and the decision number so that it can easily be available in the town clerk's office.

ENTERS SERVICE

Pvt. John Ozoonian, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ozoonian of Osgood rd., recently enlisted in the U.S. Marines and is now stationed at Parris Island, So. Carolina, where he is receiving training.

John was graduated from Andover High School in June.

TWIGG - PACKER

At a 3 o'clock candlelight service Sunday, Aug. 14, in the Trinity Congregational Church, Miss Mary Louise Packer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Packer, 70 Hampstead st., Methuen, became the bride of Second Lieutenant John K. Twigg, son of Mrs. Helen S. Twigg, 4 Summer st. The Rev. Arthur Morley officiated. Chis Higginbottom sang the traditional bridal music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza with an embroidered motif. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt with a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of hand rolled illusion was attached to a cap of seed pearls and lace. She carried a white family bible covered with a cascade of white roses and white heather imported from Scotland.

Miss Rebecca Packer, the maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of lilac silk organza with matching embroidered silk organza jacket and a matching picture hat.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Alan Thoday, Mrs. John Neff, and Miss Peggy Conom, all of Methuen, wore identical outfits in pink. Miss Shiela Bess of Yarmouth Port, the junior bridesmaid, wore lilac silk organza to match the maid of honor. All of the attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink sweetheart roses and mixed flowers.

Robert H. Twigg of Andover was the best man. The ushers were Walter R. Stamp of North Andover, Sumner F. Davis Jr. of Andover, Kent T. Besse of Yarmouth Port, Elliot Palmer of Salem, N. H., and Walter O. Kohl of North Andover.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Merrimack Valley Golf Club. Mrs. Raymond St. Onge of Methuen was in charge of the guest book. Guests were present from St. Petersburg, Fla., North Conway, N. H., Yarmouth Port, and North Dakota.

Following a wedding trip to the White Mountains and Canada, the couple will reside in New York City where Mr. Twigg will be on active duty with the U.S. Air Force.

The bride is a graduate of Lowell State Teachers College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Lowell Technological Institute.

Obituaries...

MRS. MAY M. GARVEY

Mrs. May M. (Lynch) Garvey, 29 Belmont st., Lawrence, died Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, at the Marie Claire Rest Home, Lawrence, after a long illness.

Born in Drumshanbo, County Leitrim, Ireland, she was a resident of Andover for over 45 years prior to moving to Lawrence in 1959. She was a member of the Sacred Heart Sodality and the Altar Rosary Sodality of St. Augustine's Church, and attended St. Laurence Church of Lawrence.

She is survived by her husband, Patrick J. Garvey, two sons, Thomas J., of Lawrence and John P., of Haverhill; one sister, Mrs. John McGreevy of Ireland; one brother, Thomas Lynch of Ireland, two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Wednesday with a solemn high Mass of requiem in St. Laurence's Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in the Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Lawrence.

GEORGE G. BROWN JR.

George Gibson Brown, Jr., 36, 68 Phillips st., well-known in local civic and sporting circles, died Thursday, Aug. 11, at the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston. Born in Lawrence, he was an Andover resident for 34 years and was a director and assistant treasurer of the David Brown Co. He served on the board of governors of the North Andover Country Club, and was a member of the University Club of Boston, Boston Madison Square Garden Club and president of the Andover Badminton Club. He was a graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover with the class of 1942.

He is survived by his parents, George G. and Beatrice (Twiss) Brown of Andover.

Funeral services were held at his home Saturday, Aug. 13, at 2 p.m. with The Rev. Dr. Laurence Blackburn of Christ Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial was in Bellevue Cemetery, Lawrence.

SASEEN K. HYDER

Saseen K. Hyder, 69, 96 Poor st., was pronounced dead on arrival Friday evening, Aug. 12, at Bon Secours Hospital, where he was taken from his home in the Andover fire department ambulance. Dr. John T. Batal, medical examiner, attributed death to coronary thrombosis.

Born in Baalbeck, Lebanon, he was a Lawrence resident for 61 years, attended St. George's Orthodox Church, and for many years was a realtor and appraiser for the Lawrence Savings Bank.

He is survived by a daughter, Cynthia, wife of John Childs of Methuen; three brothers, Abraham K. of Seabrook Beach, N.H., Henry K. of Methuen, and Joseph K. of Haverhill; a sister, Miss Helen Hyder; three grandchildren, Donna, Cheryl and Susan; also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral service was held Monday at 10 a.m. in St. George's Orthodox Church, Lawrence. Burial was in Bellevue Cemetery, Lawrence.

Local Women Attended Conference

Mrs. Peter Dantos of Pine st. and Miss Harriet Newman of Elm st. have returned to Andover after attending the 44th Annual Conference of the Northern New England School of Religious Education held at Geneva Point Camp, Lake Winnepesaukee, Moultonboro, N. H., from Aug. 6 through Aug. 13.

At the Conference, Mrs. Dantos was among the graduates to receive her diploma for completing required study in Christian Education. They both attended the annual Alumni Dinner held Friday evening. The conference is interdenominational and people attend from all of the New England States and many southern and mid-western states. Geneva Point Camp is owned and operated by the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in America. Each week, a different conference is held from late June through Labor Day.

WALK - JEDREY

Miss Joan Mary Jedrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor W. Jedrey, 201 Andover st., Ballardvale, became the bride of Teddie R. Walk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Walk of Hobbs, New Mexico, at a 3 o'clock wedding ceremony, Saturday, July 23 in St. Augustine's Church, with the Rev. James Wenzel, O.S.A., officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace and tulle. Styled with a Chantilly lace bodice, bouffant tulle skirt attached to Chantilly lace forming a peplum effect, long lace sleeves, mandarin neckline studded with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion attached to a coronet of pearls and carried a prayer book covered with orchids and carnations.

Mrs. William F. Walsh, as matron of honor, wore a strapless waltz length gown of blue lace and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The best man was Billy J. Walk, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the bride's parents' home with out-of-town guests present from Pensacola and West Palm Beach, Fla.,

Wells, Me., Gloucester and Sterling.

The couple will make their home at 201 Andover st., following a wedding trip to New Mexico, Oklahoma and Mexico.

The bride is a graduate of Punchard High School and is director of the Joan M. Jedrey School of Dancing.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Healdton High School, Healdton, Okla. and is presently stationed in Alaska with the U. S. Army.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Has The Need Changed?

Another tempest appears to be brewing in the School Committee over the advisability of replacing the assistant superintendent.

Although there has been no outright statement, it appears that there may be some strong feeling, both within and outside the Committee, that an assistant is not necessary — or that one should not be hired to do the same job that Dr. John P. Gainey performed prior to his resignation.

It will be interesting to hear the discussions on this subject.

For our memory tells us that there was general agreement on this subject before Dr. Gainey was hired — the Committee then felt that the position should be created and that certain academic areas should be included within the assistant's responsibility.

Thus, on the face of it, we wonder why there should be any indecision about filling the job. Is it any less important now?

At this point, we are inclined to agree with some of the School Committee members who want it filled as soon as a fully qualified person can be found.

While there need not be too much haste in hiring a person, there should also be no feet-dragging attitudes to hamper the search.

Restrictions Too Severe

Regimentation may be necessary in certain fields; tight restrictions may be required in particular circumstances.

But we somehow can't quite swallow the latest disclosure about the hauling of gravel.

The Selectmen take the position that anyone moving sand, gravel or loam, for any reason, must first obtain permission from them.

The by-law specifies that the material must be for sale before a permit is required. But there has been some stretching of this flat statement, to the point that the material may be assumed to be for sale until the Selectmen are satisfied that it is not.

It has been maintained that the residents wanted the removal or transfer of materials controlled, regardless of its availability for sale.

Apparently the latest restriction means that the process of hauling the material may be stopped until permission is requested and given regardless of the wording of the by-law.

It seems almost too restrictive to prevent a man from moving materials from one piece of his own land to another for some private purpose. Instead of the burden being placed on the individual, the Selectmen or their agents should first determine whether the material is being sold, before stopping operations. This, it would seem, can easily be done.

If the townspeople wanted to control this type of operation, why would the provision be included in the by-law that the material must be for sale? Are we not stretching things too far when we imply added authority, additional restrictions, more control?

Kittens, Anyone?

Kitten, kitten, who wants a kitten?

That's a query that has been heard many a time in recent weeks — and the answer usually is "I've got five of them at home. Know anyone who wants one?"

Having asked the question himself, and having heard the answer on too numerous occasions, the editor is sadly wondering whether he'll be forced to move out to make way for the fast-growing young kittens he's still harboring.

And apparently this is not a problem unique to the editor.

One man matter-of-factly commented that he "just spread the word" and easily gave away five kittens. Most however, make the mistake of asking the adults first, instead of showing the cute little things to their friends' children first. Somehow, adults have a habit of saying "no" all too easily unless their own offspring have had a chance to set their minds on taking home a kitten.

If something isn't done — if there isn't some answer to the common problem — many a man is going to face the dreadful facts of feeding mama and her brood indefinitely.

"Anyone want a kitten?"

Boston's Museum of Science says if you can see the Andromeda Galaxy in the sky you've got good eyesight. It's the most remote object detectable with the unaided eye.

Down the Years with The Townsman

30 Years Ago — August, 1930

Considerable excitement was caused in the square Thursday morning when a pony, recently purchased by N. E. Bartlett of Abbot st., became unmanageable and broke into a run. The horse refused to pass the hockey-pokecart which stood in front of town hall and reared up, throwing the driver, William Tracy, over the back of the seat into the road. At the same time part of the harness broke and the pony, clearing himself completely, started out on his own account, heading up Main st. with a crowd of men and boys after him. Reaching the corner of Punchard ave., he turned down that street and then dashed back down Bartlett st., where he was finally halted at the blacksmith's. The driver was not hurt in his fall.

The shop on Railroad st. which was built a few years ago for the manufacturing of rubber goods has been purchased by the well-known Lawrence civil engineer, Horace H. Smith, for use as a boat house and garage.

Mrs. Frances A. Holt of Scotland District reached her 80th milestone last Monday. The day was made the occasion of great rejoicing and great festivity by her relatives, about 20 of whom gathered at the old homestead, better known as the "old Cheever place". Among those present were four generations of the family.

Three girls and three boys, all from Boston, were given suspended sentences in District Court yesterday, following their apprehension in a camp at Foster's Pond. They were arrested Sunday, after someone reported that the camp had been in use since Thursday.

Re-alignment of precinct boundaries is recommended by the Selectmen, who have turned over their data to the town clerk. The proposal must be processed by that individual and put before the voters for acceptance. Two new precincts would be created — precinct four in West Andover will be made from sections of other precincts, and the center of town will be split into two precincts for voting purposes.

The ERA will continue for at least two more weeks, following receipt of $2,300 for the payroll. The laborers went back to work Monday, but had been laid off last Tuesday when it appeared that the money would run out. There were no disturbances here as a result in Lynn and some other communities.

The charm of Italy will come to Andover Oct. 9, when the November Club will hold an Italian street carnival on Locke st.

Repairs on the Ballardvale bridge at Andover st. will be much more extensive than first thought. It will be necessary to re-plank and re-timber five bays instead of two, and the bridge will be closed for several more days.

Installation of a 2,500 gallon-per-minute pump at the Haggert's Pond pumping station will be completed this fall. The Board of Public Works let the contract for the work this week. The capacity of the station will be increased 100 percent by the new pump.

Haggert's Pond is down 541/2 inches below high water mark, but there is no thought being given to restrictions at this time. The average pumping is 2,600,000 gallons per day, just slightly more than last year. The Pond is not yet as low as it was in 1949. Children playing with matches and youngsters sneaking smokes are known to have caused several grass and brush fires in recent days. Police and fire officials have warned that the children will be prosecuted, if caught, particularly during this very dry time of year.

It took only six working days to re-surface Main st. from Post Office ave. to Chapel ave. The street crews put down over 300 tons of material each day during the operation.

On Many Fronts — Africa

It may seem strange to single out for special mention a collection of short stories, but rarely have we found a book of any kind which so powerfully sets forth the subtle interplay in human relationships between white and black man as in this collection of fifteen stories, The Zulu And The Zeide by Dan Jacobson, beautifully written and masterpieces of construction.

Any list of books about Africa might well include some, if not all, of the following, each of which in one way or another, illuminates some aspect of this troubled continent: Cry, the Beloved Country, Paton — almost a classic in its sympathetic interpretation of South Africa's racial ferment; The Lost Cities of Africa, Davidson — a 1959 Ainsfield-Wolf award winner; Blanket, Murray — about a South African ritual murder, not only a gripping story, but part of our "tragic human experience"; The Harmless People, Thomas — a fascinating account of the Bushmen of the Kalahari desert; Episode in the United States and Africa, American Assembly — a series of papers on the African economy, society and political systems; Venture to the Interior, Van Der post — this African born author is sensitive to how much Africa can contribute, if only the white man will recognize the fact; Hope For South Africa, Paton — a good introduction to the present South African crisis; The Afro-Asian States and Their Problems, Panikkar; The Dark Child, Laye — a member of a Negro Moslem tribe tells about a childhood in French Guinea — and there are many other excellent books.

Cuba

There are fewer books about Cuba than about Africa, but the following may go a little way in explaining the present confusion in that island. An excellent introduction to the situation can be found in Theodore Draper's article in the May 12th Reporter entitled "Runaway Revolution". The headline pamphlet "New Trends In Latin America" suggests some-

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "It is many years now since I left the town of my birth and old friends. As I sat talking with my spouse this evening, and thinking back to the days spent in Old Andover, these thoughts entered my mind.

"I said 'By gosh, I'm going to jot them down and send them to the Townsman and request they print them. Maybe someone is still there who can tell me what happened, as they did to old Rip Van Winkle'.

"It is a long time since I have enjoyed the pleasure of reading the 'Good Ole Townsman'. The place has grown up, I presume, since 1927.

"However, I see 'Red' Dyer once in a while. But he sleeps all day, being night editor at the Daily Star in New York City.

thing of the changes taking place in Latin America and their impact upon the United States. Three other books should be included: Fidel Castro, Dubois — the author, Latin American correspondent of the Chicago Tribune; Twilight of the Tyrants, Szulc — the life and times of five Latin American dictators, and Cuba, Island of Paradox, Phillips.

At The UN

The United Nations has taken on added stature with its action in the Congo. A few suggested titles will give an interested reader up-to-date background on this important world organization: United Nations; Hope For a Divided World, Munro; A United Nations Peace Force, Frye — by the Christian Science Monitor UN correspondent; and Partners in a World Team, Berken.

At Home

At home as politics takes over, we are reminded that there are many serious issues to be discussed by the candidates. A few titles suggest what some of these will be: Our Housing Jungle and Your Pocket Book, Steiner — how to turn our growing slums into assets; The Practical Economist, Crane — a discussion of such controversial issues as waste, inflation, full employment, public debt; Nuclear Policy For War and Peace, Murray — views by a former member of the Atomic Energy Commission; With Liberty and Justice For All, U. S. Commission on Civil Rights; Aging in Today's Society, Tibbets and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund reports Foreign Economic Policy for the Twentieth Century; International Security — the Military Aspect; "The Mid-Century Challenge to U. S. Foreign Policy" and "The Pursuit of Excellence" — education and the future of America.

at The UN

The United Nations has taken on added stature with its action in the Congo. A few suggested titles will give an interested reader up-to-date background on this important world organization: United Nations; Hope For a Divided World, Munro; A United Nations Peace Force, Frye - by the Christian Science Monitor UN correspondent; and Partners in a World Team, Berken.

Home

At home as politics takes over, we are reminded that there are many serious issues to be discussed by the candidates. A few titles suggest what some of these will be: Our Housing Jungle and Our Pocket Book, Steiner - how to turn our growing slums into assets; The Practical Economist, Lane - a discussion of such controversial issues as waste, inflation, full employment, public debt; Nuclear Policy For War and Peace, Murray - views by a former member of the Atomic Energy Commission; With Liberty and Justice For All, U. S. Commission on Civil Rights; Aging in Today's Society, Tibbets and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund reports on Foreign Economic Policy for the Twentieth Century; International Security - the Military Aspects of the Mid-Century Challenge to U. S. Foreign Policy; and "The Unit of Excellence" - education for the future of America.

Dr. Simon Is Chief Engineer

DR. SIDNEY L. SIMON

Appointment of Dr. Sidney L. Simon of Andover as chief engineer, Missile Electronics and Controls Division, RCA Defense Electronic Products, was announced by William B. Kirkpatrick, General Manager of the Missile Electronics and Control Division.

Dr. Simon succeeds Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., who has accepted a post with the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA).

Dr. Simon came to RCA in December, 1958, with wide experience in the fields of combustion, high temperature materials, nuclear energy, and aircraft nuclear propulsion studies. He was associated with the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics from 1943 to 1955. As head of the Fundamental Combustion Section until 1946 and then as Chief of the Physics of Solids Branch from 1949 to 1955, he organized and directed research concerning the physics of solids, high temperature materials, corrosion and radiation damage.

On loan from NACA between 1946 and 1949, Dr. Simon attended the Oak Ridge Reactor School and was senior engineer at Oak Ridge National Laboratory for a year. From 1947 to 1949 he served as senior scientist at Argonne National Laboratory and there directed the High Temperature Pile Problems Group. During 1955, he was engaged as nuclear scientist in Project AID, studying industrial possibilities in atomic energy for the General Dynamics Corporation.

In January, 1956, he joined the Research and Advanced Development Division of Avco Manufacturing Corporation as director of applied research, where he directed 270 research personnel in the development of an ICBM nose cone.

Since joining RCA, Dr. Simon has held positions of increasing responsibility, the most recent being manager of Systems Engineering at the Burlington defense plant.

He is an associate fellow of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences, and a member of the American Society for Metals, the American Physical Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and Sigma Xi. He holds several patents, and has written papers on various subjects which have been published in ANL reports, NACA reports, and scientific periodicals.

Dr. Simon and his wife, the former Dorothy Martin, make their home at 1 Sunset Rock rd.

ARMY TAKES OVER THE TOWN

Starting at 10:30 interviews will be conducted with local officials, as part of the civil affairs survey of the community. This effort will continue for the balance of the day.

Andover, for purposes of the exercise, is within a country called "Newmass", which has been engaged in hostilities with U. S. troops. The platoon coming here, as in the other communities, is composed of specialists in administering local government, and has been theoretically called in by the Army as the area is secured from battle.

The troops will not actually take over the operation of the government.

The third day of the exercise, Friday, will be spent at Fort Devens, where various problems and situations will be presented to the men. They will be assuming that they are still in Andover and will solve the problems in that assumed situation.

fraud, says Boston's Museum of Science.

First of all, the persistent, high-pitched buzzing sound heard on summer days is actually the mating call of the cicada (sick-ay'-da), an insect not even remotely related to the locust.

Second, country tales to the contrary, the cicada does not foretell the day's weather. Since it usually sounds off on a day already grown hot and only serves to emphasize the fact, the insect is really more of a newscaster than a forecaster.

Even the celebrated "17-year locust" is misnamed, says the Museum's assistant director of education, Gilbert E. Merrill. This insect is also a cicada, but one with a much longer period of metamorphosis, or life cycle, than the common cicada.

Setting the matter straight, Merrill says that the destructive locusts of the Far East, descending in voraciously munching hordes upon the grain fields, are not to be feared in this country. Although we do have true locusts - our grasshoppers are an example - they do not occur here by the hundreds of millions at periodic intervals as they do in Asia. Even so, local grasshoppers cause farmers some concern, but American know-how in crop-dusting and pest control has kept the menace to a minimum.

On the other hand, cicadas should not be thought of as excessively or dangerously destructive. The adult insect does no damage to speak of, having eaten lavishly and done most of its lifetime feeding while still in its nymph stage.

To understand this, let's review the life cycle of the cicada. Mating takes place in mid-summer, and the female cicada then deposits her eggs - dozens and dozens of them - in green twigs or tree bark. Here the eggs remain until they hatch, the tiny emerging nymphs falling to the ground to borrow into the soft earth. There they live on sap from the same tree on which they were hatched.

Underground, the nymph goes through a series of molts for about a year until, in its last nymph stage, it crawls to the surface in mid-July. Clinging to its mother-tree, it goes through its final stage of development when it sheds its outer skin and emerges as a winged adult. Now it begins the final short portion of its life, devoted mainly to finding a mate.

Called the Rip Van Winkle of the Underground, the 17-year locust has much the same life cycle, except that its metamorphosis takes 16 years longer to complete. Because it occurs in such vast numbers, it has been known to cause extensive damage to the roots of trees in some areas.

The last emergence of the 17-year cicada in the Cape Cod area took place a few years ago, but it can be found somewhere every year. (One state this year; a neighboring state, the next.) This fact alone should dispel the ancient myth that the insect's emergence foretells the coming of war.

Perhaps the cicada's prime claim to fame is its long and loud mating call. This distinctive sound is produced by the buckling of celluloid-like plates lining its abdomen wall.

To man, this "belly laugh," heard on a hot day, is the signal to get in out of the sun, leaving the cicadas alone to conduct the important business of courtship.

HELEN MCCARTHY BEQUEATHED $5,000

Helen McCarthy of Andover was bequeathed $5,000 by Louis R. Dwyer of Bradford, according to his will, filed in the Registry of Probate.

Mr. Dwyer, who died July 30, made bequests totaling $83,000, including $3,000 for the Sacred Heart Church in Bradford. His sole heir-at-law, Mrs. Margaret D. Brown of Hampton, N. H., a niece, was given $8,000. The residue of the estate was awarded to Mary E. Martinovich of Belmont after various devises were made to friends.

Grundgreen Funeral Home Inc.

10 ELM STREET ANDOVER, MASS.

Dear friends,

Often we are asked, "Whom shall we see about the preparation of the grave?" "Do you arrange for the minister or priest?" "Can you notify the musicians?"

All these details are a part of our service. The family is relieved entirely of all responsibility in connection with funeral arrangements. We know this means much to those whom we serve. All desired preparations are made without causing the family one moment's worry.

Respectfully,

Donald E. Grundgreen

URBAN RENEWAL SURVEY TO START

The Housing Authority will appoint the appraisers, whose work will be done at a later date. The survey team that will begin work in September will not involve the appraisals. Members of the team will be suitably identified by a letter, so that property owners may be certain they are talking to members of the consulting firm.

As part of the survey, they will accumulate data designed to give the firm, and the Housing Authority, enough information to decide which buildings will be retained and which can be retained.

The housing requirements of all families in the area will be obtained, so that each family or person that has to relocate can be provided with a suitable house or apartment.

It has again been stressed that the current planning stage is paid for by a government allocation, and is not paid for by local funds. Only when a town meeting accepts the eventual plan will the town be involved in payment of money for urban renewal.

During the planning stage, the consultants have stressed that they will make every effort to keep abreast of the Towns' attitudes, and will try to make the plan adaptable to them. This was brought out during a question period Tuesday night, when someone asked whether sentimental attachments to buildings will be considered when deciding the future of the properties.

When the planning stage is completed, and throughout the weeks when it is being constructed, the Housing Authority intends to have meetings with interested persons so that full information will be available.

Publish Magazine At Pike School

An active six-week session of summer study at the Pike School was climaxed Wednesday with the publication of a student literary magazine containing writing efforts of 18 youngsters from Andover and surrounding communities.

The local country day school, in offering its second annual summer session, afforded boys and girls an opportunity to strengthen and extend academic skills in English studies and in mathematics.

Reading was an important part of the course of study for each student. Developmental reading aids were used extensively. Oral reading of plays, dictionary studies, and discussion of texts read in class were some of the favorite activities. Rated most popular by the students, however, was the rapidly expanding Pike School Library of over 1000 books.

The literary magazine, "The Greenleaf", contains essays and original stories chosen by the students as their best creative work of the summer.

Mathematics was offered to all. Skills studied extended from a review of basic arithmetical processes to algebra and geometry. Douglas M. Dunbar and Earle R. Warren, both members of the regular Pike School faculty, directed the summer session for the second year. Miss Patricia Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burton of Central St. and a student at Connecticut College for Women, assisted in teaching and clerical duties.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

Paul Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albion Johnson of High Plain rd., has recently been transferred from W. Virginia to an executive position with the Goodman Manufacturing Co. in Hinsdale, Ill. Mr. Johnson is a mining engineer. The family has been visiting with the Johnsons' on High Plain rd., and they left recently for their new home in Hinsdale, Ill.

Women Given Vote In Time For Election Of 40 Years Ago

Forty years ago the U. S. was groaning under the same thundering oratory and rolling bandwagons that comprise a presidential election campaign, with one hair-raising difference - women were about to cast their vote for the first time on a nationwide scale.

Harassed men of politics had let down their guard and regardless of whether women might become desexed or turn politics into a morality play, as opponents of feminism charged, they were going to have their say.

It wasn't the first time women had voted, however, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

Congress had left the decision to the states and New Jersey at first permitted its women to vote. But the men had second thoughts and the state took back the privilege in 1807.

As women joined the labor force in the new factories, and began to help men fight for temperance and the abolition of slavery, they gained a forum to air their pet peeve.

A meeting at Seneca Falls, N. Y., which has been called the first woman suffrage convention in the U. S., stirred public discussion in 1848.

Two years later reformers, male and female, from the entire country assembled at Worcester, as the Woman's Rights Convention.

The crusade was in full swing when the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment divided the forces of reform.

The radicals, led by Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, opposed the amendment because it gave the vote to Negro men but not to women. They organized the National Woman Suffrage Association.

A more moderate group founded the American Woman Suffrage Association and concentrated on persuading the states rather than the federal government to grant voting rights to women.

In 1872 the determined Miss Anthony was arrested for voting and her trial focused wide attention on the feminist fight.

Several states granted woman suffrage in the 1890's and others began to take the idea more seriously. At the same time, the suffragists re-united in the National American Woman Suffrage Association and prepared for the big push.

Their chance came with World War I and the expanding role of women. Militant womanhood descended on Washington, D. C. They paraded through the capital, picketed the White House and carried on hunger strikes in jail.

In 1917 a woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution was submitted to the House of Representatives. The pressure was stepped up and in 1918 Woodrow Wilson personally went before a joint session of Congress to urge passage.

Congress took action and the last of the necessary three-fourths of the states approved the Nineteenth Amendment in August, 1920, just in time for the presidential election.

Mrs. Serio Feted By Family Group

A birthday dinner party was held last Sunday in honor of Mrs. Frank Serio at the family home on Lowell Junction rd., with the family members attending.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serio Jr., and children, Linda, Lynn and Lauren; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Serio, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sax and daughter, Lisa; Mr. and Mrs. James Letters and daughter, Janet, and Mr. and Mrs. Serio.

Dows Entertained At Lobster Cookout

Atty. and Mrs. Halbert Dow entertained a group of their friends last Saturday evening at their summer home at Wallis Sands, N. H. A lobster cookout was enjoyed and during the evening, William Stewart showed pictures of his recent trip to Europe.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peatman, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hartz, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pray, Mr. and Mrs. William Dubocq, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Northey, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hudgins, Mr. and Mrs. Suren Loosigian and Atty. and Mrs. Dow.

BARBECUE CANCELLED
The Andover Chapter of the Eastern Star announces the cancellation of the Chicken Barbecue that was scheduled for Aug. 20.

PERSONALS

Vote In Time 40 Years Ago

male and female, from the entire country assembled at Worcester, as the Woman's Rights Convention. The crusade was in full swing when the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment divided the forces of reform.

The radicals, led by Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, opposed the amendment because it gave the vote to Negro men but not to women. They organized the National Woman Suffrage Association.

A more moderate group founded the American Woman Suffrage Association and concentrated on persuading the states rather than the federal government to grant voting rights to women.

In 1872 the determined Miss Anthony was arrested for voting and her trial focused wide attention on the feminist fight.

Several states granted woman suffrage in the 1890's and others began to take the idea more seriously. At the same time, the suffragists re-united in the National American Woman Suffrage Association and prepared for the big push.

Their chance came with World War I and the expanding role of women.

Militant womanhood descended on Washington, D. C. They paraded through the capital, picketed the White House and carried on hunger strikes in jail.

In 1917 a woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution was submitted to the House of Representatives. The pressure was stepped up and in 1918 Woodrow Wilson personally went before a joint session of Congress to urge passage.

Congress took action and the last of the necessary three-fourths of the states approved the Nineteenth Amendment in August, 1920, just in time for the presidential election.

MEYERS SEES NEED OF JOB

heard of the job from other sources.

The two schools were notified of the vacancy by Dr. Meyers, immediately after receipt of a resignation from Dr. John P. Gainey, who will join the New Haven, Conn. system as associate superintendent in September.

Dr. Meyers specifically stated this week that he talked with Supt. Erickson before notifying the schools, and denied that he intruded on normal administrative procedures by doing so. He said Supt. Erickson gave him the green light to make the calls, because the superintendent was going on vacation the following day.

Although there had been some talk about having a special School Committee meeting on the subject none has been called.

Member Robert McIntyre, on Naval duty at Great Lakes, told his colleagues he wished the Committee to move slowly on the matter, and expressed the desire to be in attendance at any meeting on the subject. He will be returning to Andover late next week. Mrs. Reta Buchan is also out of town for the summer.

In explaining the reasons for his insistence that the post be filled, Dr. Meyers recalled that Supt. Erickson had agreed with the Committee originally that a second man was needed because the job of superintendent had become more complex as the system grew. He also stated that the superintendent recommended Dr. Gainey to the Committee, after he and another candidate were interviewed.

Andover, treasurer; and John Lyons, 12 Argyle st., secretary.

Other business transacted at the meeting included establishment of dues, final approval of the constitution and by-laws and making arrangements for affiliation with the state and national organizations.

Over 30 young men have become members of the Junior Chamber, and others will be welcome. Any man 21-35 inclusive is welcome.

Those joining prior to a charter night banquet planned for October will receive special charter memberships.

The main purposes of Jaycees are community improvement, and personal development of its members.

The Methuen chapter is sponsoring the local organization.

Gardeners Invited On Field Trip

Saturday, Aug. 20, at 10:30 a.m., all members of the Andover Garden Club are invited to attend a field trip sponsored by the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society, Inc., and led by Mr. Wayne Hanley, naturalist, author of many articles on birds and wild flowers and a staff writer for a Boston newspaper. This will be a trip to Cranberry Pond, a former cranberry bog area and to Triphammer Pond where there are open fields, old country roads lined with red cedars, a brush thicket area growing under a power line right of way, a marsh, a semi-open cedar hillside, deep woods and a fair-sized pond, offering many different habitats for varied species of flowers and birds. Cardinal flowers should be in full bloom around Triphammer at this season, while at Cranberry there should be earth stars and many plants of the open sunny marsh.

All persons interested should bring a picnic lunch and meet at the Hingham Police Station across from the First National store, where Lincoln st. divides from Route 3A. Park on the shoulder of Lincoln st. beside the police station. Bare Cove forms the background and there should be birds and flowers to look at while waiting. Anyone traveling Route 128 or the southeast expressway can reach the police station by following Route 128 to Route 3A junction and then turning left and driving toward Boston on Route 3A to the station, which is about two miles from the junction.
